

Patricia Rutter

Portfolio

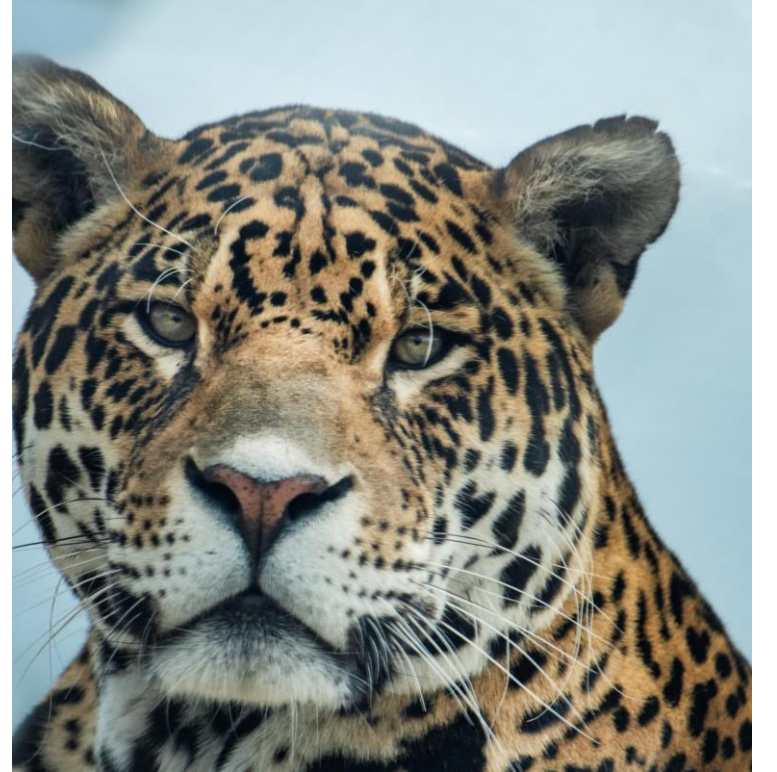

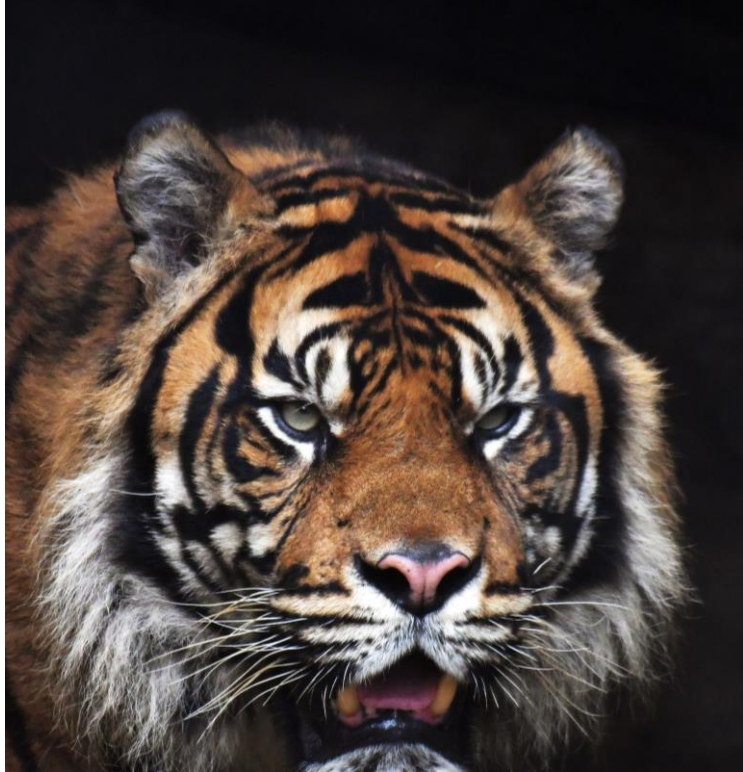

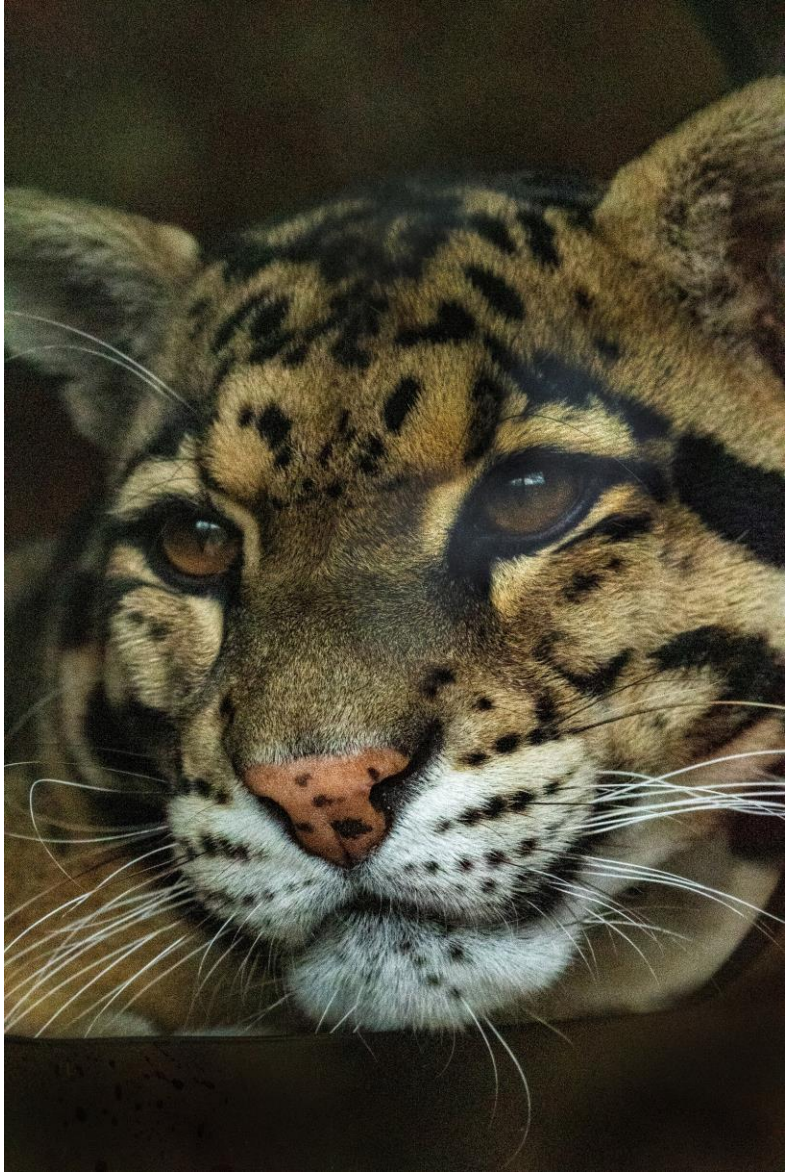

STATEMENT

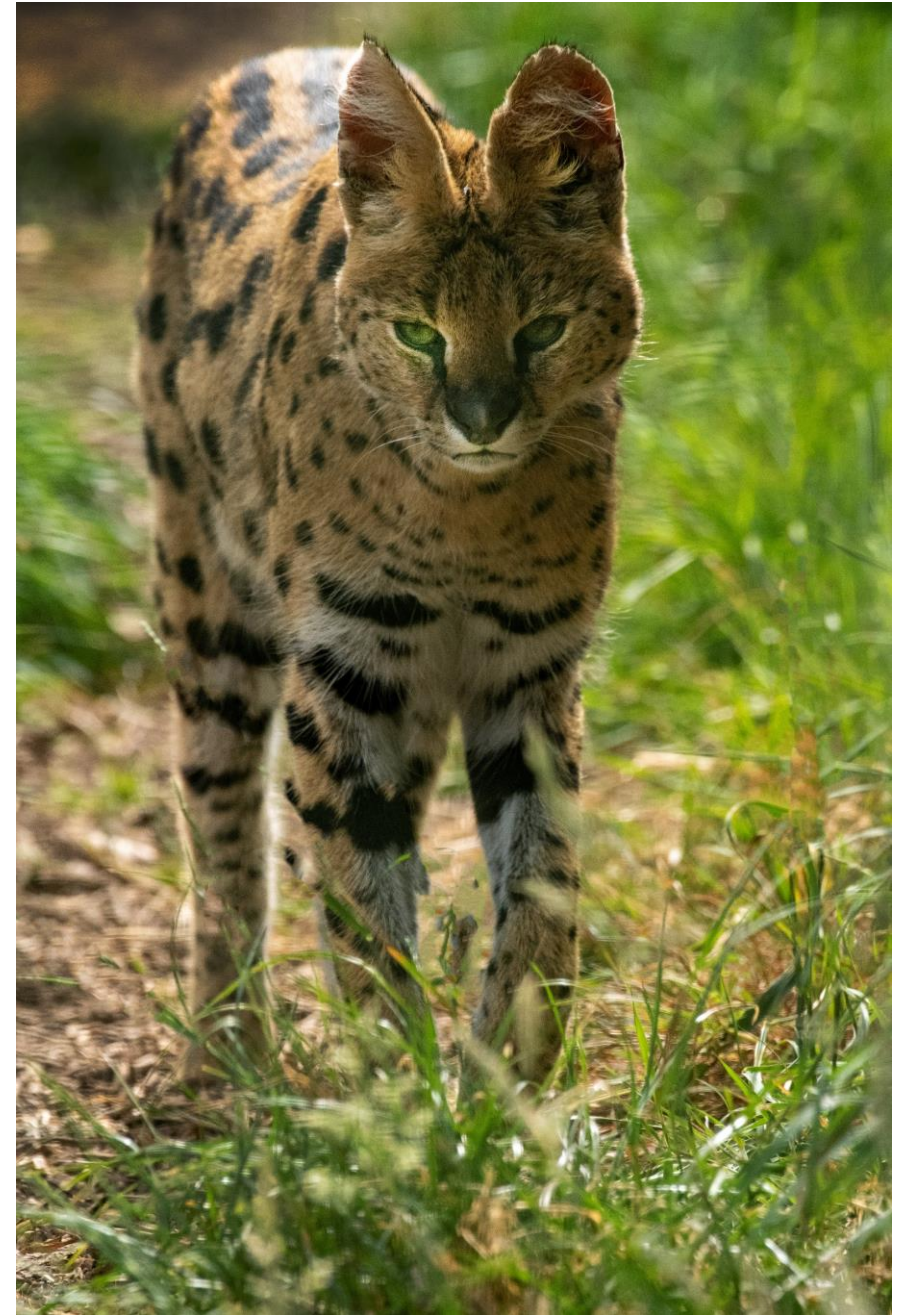

Pat Rutter is a freelance photographer who specialises in wild animal portraiture. When photographing wild animals, her knowledge and patience allow her to capture stunning and emotional images and is passionate about conservation. She has had her work shown in a number of exhibitions. Pat specialises in nature and animal portrait photography.

Her activities and research revolve around observing and studying the plight of endangered wild creatures. She is bold, which helps her get great shots, but she is also patient and thorough, which allows her to turn unusual settings into captivating images.

Pat has worked in over 40 zoos and wildlife parks on a national and international scale in search of that perfect shot. Pat Rutter has been an avid photographer for the past ten years.

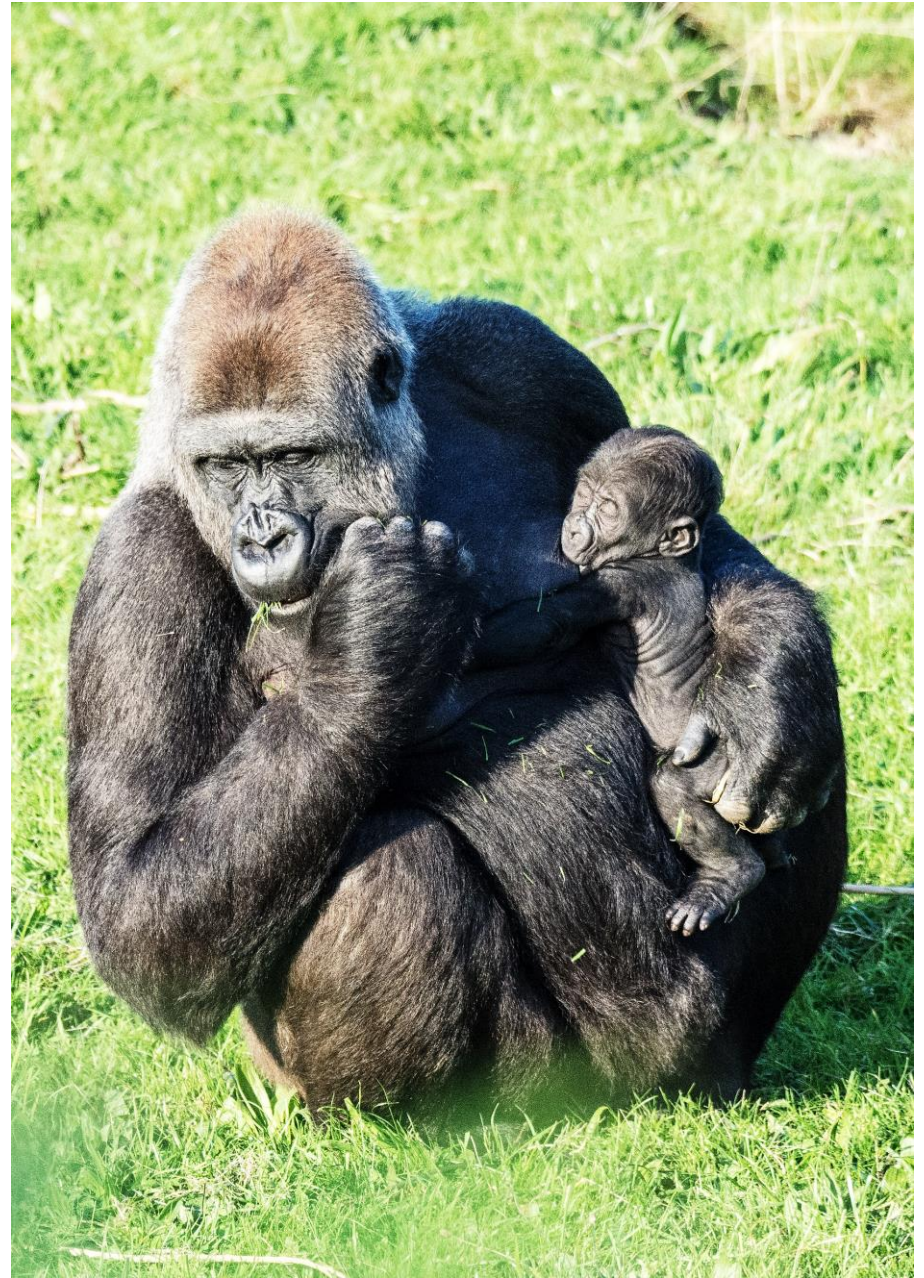

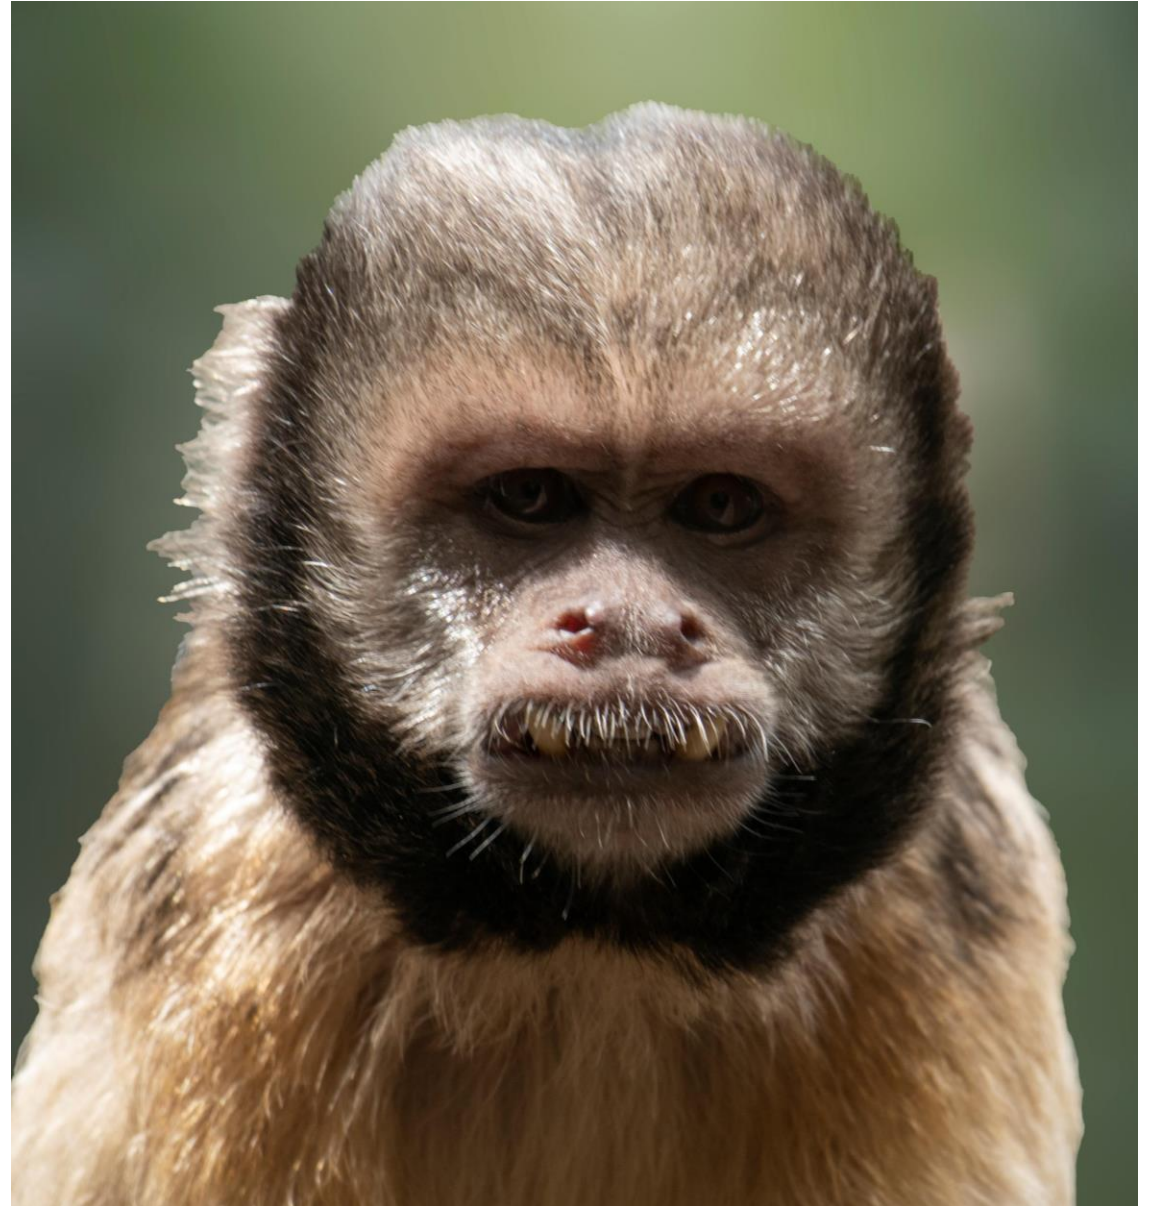

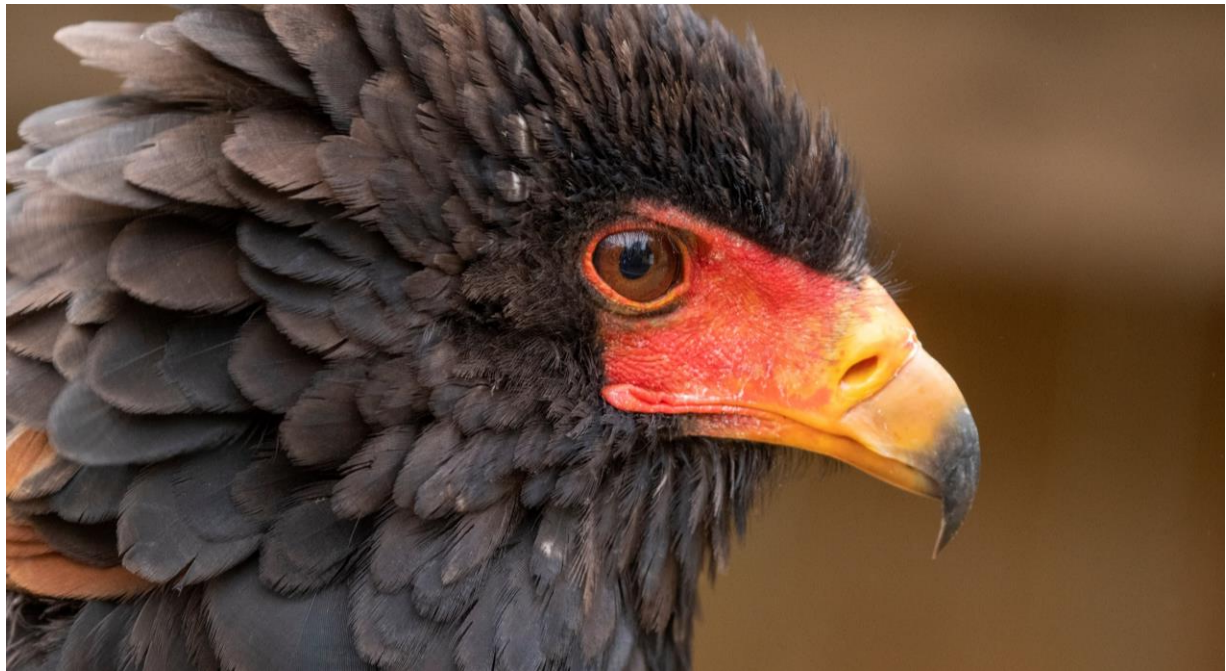

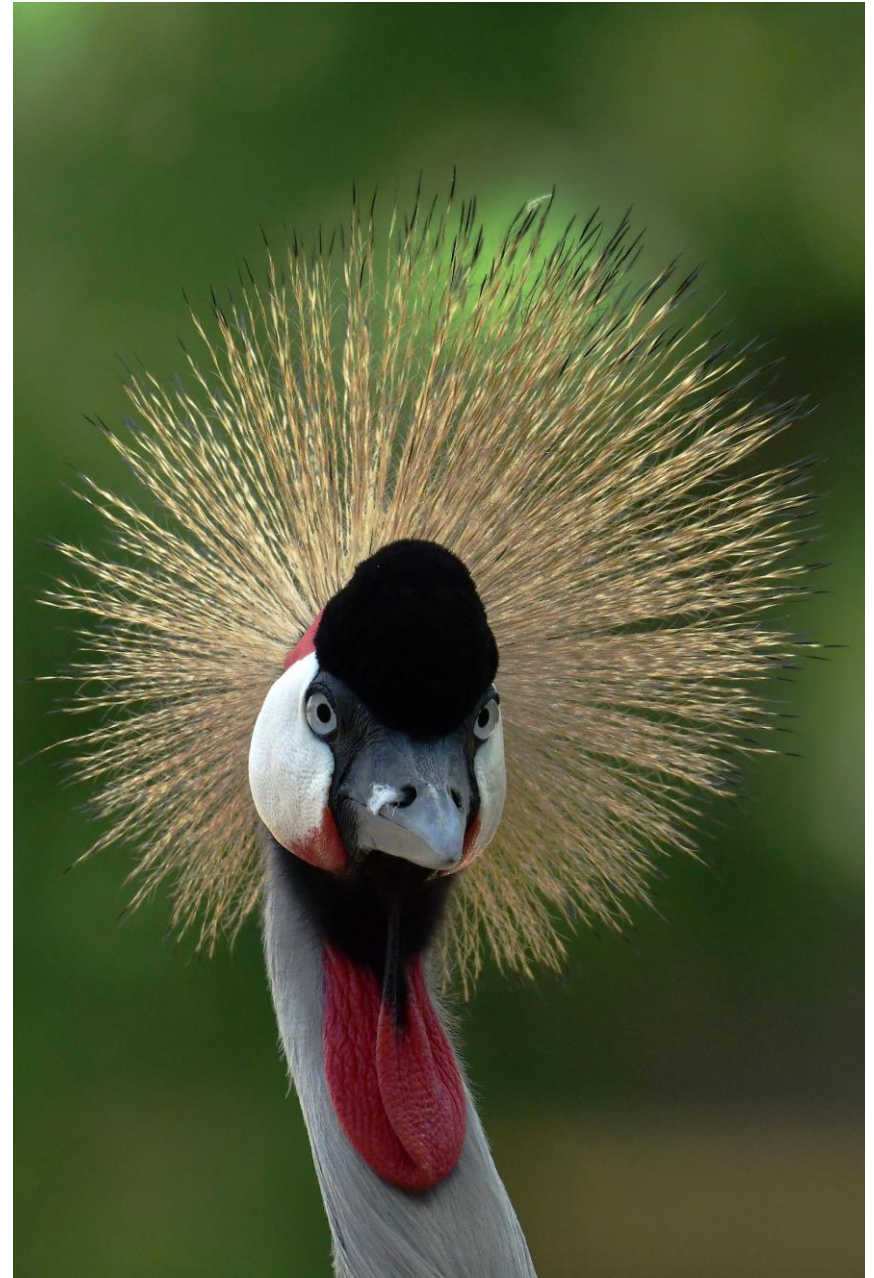

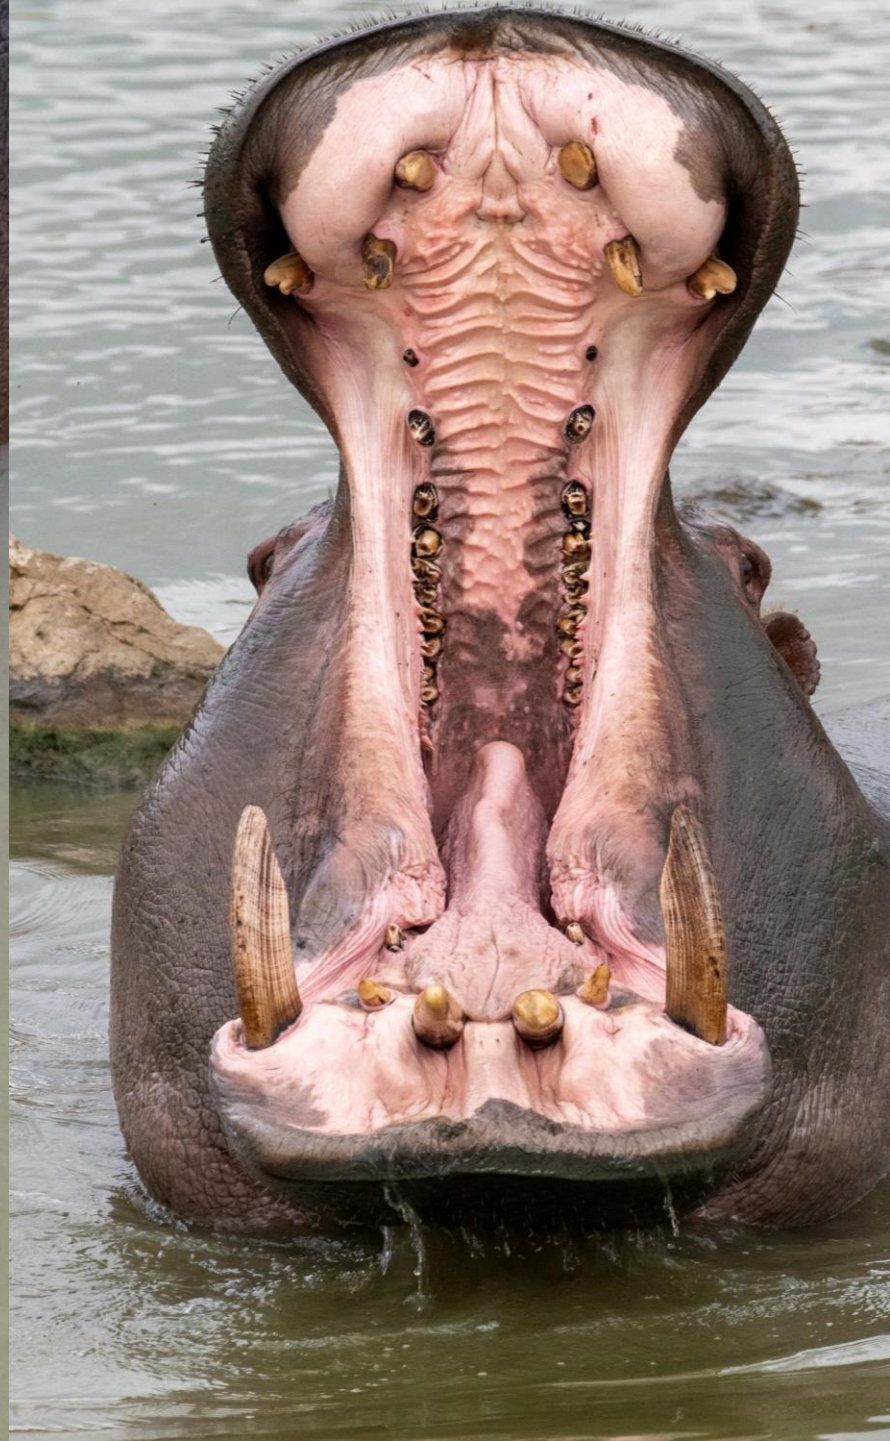

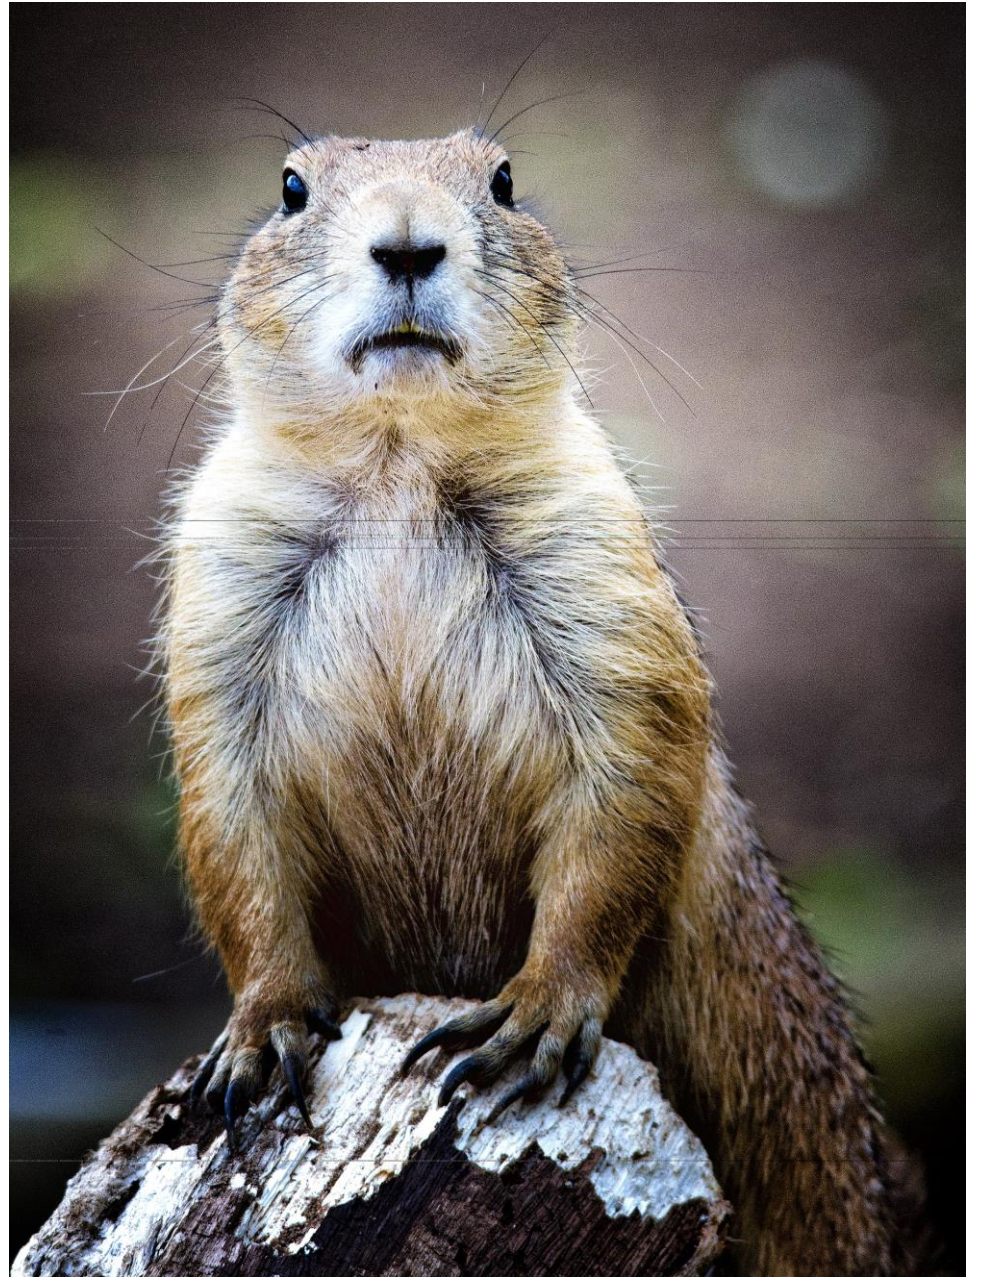

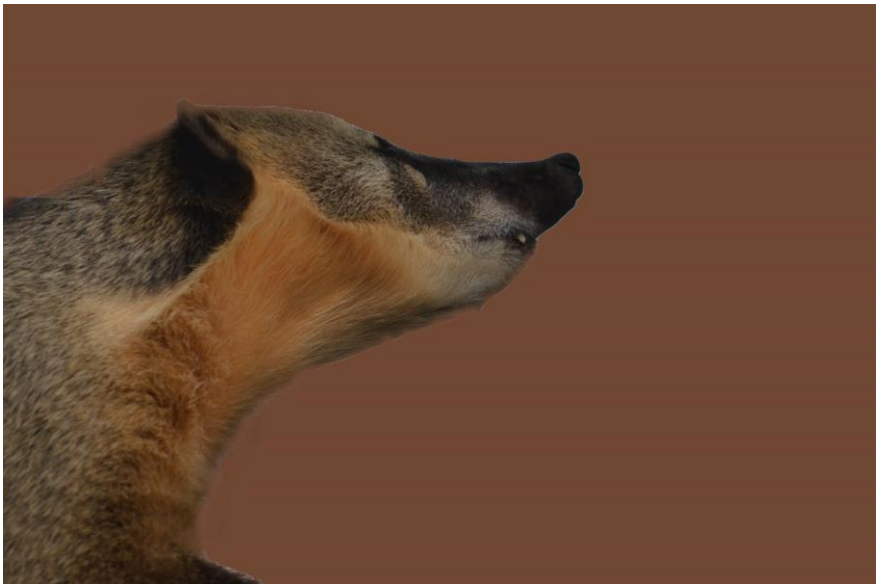

Patricia Rutter

